TOPIC

The Missing Links: Your Business Needs to Save Real Money in Workers' Compensation

Three Objectives of Program

1. Educate the audience regarding appropriate defense strategy in workers' compensation claims.
2. Educate the audience regarding ways to save additional money in the area of workers' compensation.
3. The roll of attorneys in defending workers' compensation claims.

Program by David C. Korte

David heads the Workers' Compensation group at Coolidge Wall, with over 30 years of experience in the field. In 1998, he became one of the charter group of attorneys in Ohio certified as specialists in the field of Workers' Compensation law by the Ohio State Bar Association. He has been named an Ohio "Super Lawyer" by Law and Politics magazine and also named in The Best Lawyers in America in the field of Workers' Compensation Law-Employers.

David brings a unique background to the wide variety of small, medium, and large organizations he represents. He served for six years in-house with a Fortune 500 company, defending and managing claims in an eight state mid-western region, before returning to private practice in 1989. David works with both self-insured and state funded employers, not only in hearing representation and trials, but also in day to day claims management, injury investigations, actuarial analyses, and cost savings strategies. He is a regularly featured speaker in local, state, and national seminars involving workers' compensation law. He is also published on the subject of Workers' Compensation Law Journal.

David is a graduate of Miami University and the University of Cincinnati College of Law.
